Per DCS Policy Work Aid 1 Section E:

Child Death is defined as:

Tennessee Department of Children's Services

Case Recording Summary

Case Id:	[redacted]	Case Name:	[redacted] [redacted]
Case Status:	Close	Organization:	[redacted] Region

Any child death caused by abuse or neglect.

Any unexplained death of a child when the cause of death is unknown or pending an autopsy report.

Any child death caused by abuse or neglect resulting from the parent or caretaker's failure to stop another person's direct action that resulted in the death of the child. Child deaths are always treated as severe abuse.

Physical Abuse is defined as:

Any non-accidental physical injury or trauma that could cause injury inflicted by a parent, legal custodian, relative or any other person who is responsible for the care, supervision or treatment of the child. Physical abuse also includes, but is not limited to:

a) A parent or legal custodian/caretaker's failure to protect a child from another person who perpetrated physical abuse on a child;

b) Injuries marks and/or bruising that go beyond temporary redness or are in excess of age appropriate corporal punishment. (e.g., a bruise, broken bone, cut, burn);

c) Violent behavior by the parent or legal custodian/caretaker that demonstrates a disregard for the presence of a child and could reasonably result in serious injury. Striking (hitting, kicking, punching, slapping, etc.) a child in such a way that would result in internal injury. Factitious Disorder Imposed on Another (FDIA), formerly known as Munchausen by Proxy Syndrome could be considered physical abuse, medical neglect or psychological abuse.

Psychological Harm is defined as:

A repeated pattern of caregiver behavior or extreme incident(s) that convey to children that they are worthless, flawed, unloved, unwanted, endangered or only of value in meeting another's needs and may include both abusive acts against a child and failure to act; neglectful behavior when age appropriate action is required for a child's healthy development (e.g., when a child is shown no affection). It can occur as part of an extreme one-time incident, (e.g. a parent frustrated about continual bed- wetting forces a six (6) year old to wear diapers in the neighborhood) but is usually chronic.

Note: An allegation of psychological harm does not have to come from a professional.

Some types of psychological harm might include:

a) An injury to a child by a caregiver that impairs his/her intellectual, emotional, or psychological development.

b) Verbal and non-verbal caregiver acts that reject and degrade a child such as belittling, degrading, shaming and ridiculing.

c) Terrorizing; including caregiver behavior that threatens or is likely to physically hurt, kill, abandon or place the child or child's siblings, toys, or objects in recognizable dangerous situations to terrorize the child. d) Isolating that includes caregiver behaviors that consistently deny the child opportunities to meet needs for interacting or communicating with peers or adults inside or outside the home. Confining the child or placing unreasonable limitations on the child's freedom of movement within his or her environment.
