Circumstances Surrounding Death

On January 15, 2022, this 6-month-old infant passed away after being brought to the emergency room by the parents on January 1, 2022.

On the day of the incident, January 1, 2022, the mother prepared a bottle for the infant before she left for work around 5:45 am. The mother walks to and from work and was scheduled to work from 7:00 am to 3:00 pm on this day. The father was home with the children. Around 11:30 am, the father called the mother and told her that the infant was throwing up, appeared "ashy white" in color and did not appear to be breathing. The mother instructed the father to call 911.

One of the mother's coworkers heard the mother crying and offered to give her a ride home. While in the car, the mother was on the phone with the father and he said that he called 911 and no one answered the call. At 11:43 am, the mother called 911 and again no one answered the call. When the mother entered the home, the father was giving the infant CPR. The mother observed that the infant's eyes were open, but he was unresponsive, his coloring was off, and he was struggling to breathe. The person that gave her a ride home drove them to the hospital. Resuscitative efforts were attempted without success and the infant was pronounced deceased at 2:31 pm.

The details of what happened in the moments leading up to the incident remain unclear. The father stated that he ordered food, and went outside when it was delivered. Upon the father's return inside the home, the father heard gurgling sounds on the baby monitor. The father said he went into the infant's room and found the infant was vomiting all over himself and the crib. The infant was changing colors. He called the mother and placed the infant on his side, but he continued to vomit. The mother told him to call 911, he tried, and no one answered.

The Child Protection Team “CPT” completed a physical examination of the infant and a medical records review. CPT’s findings were verified for physical abuse and abusive head trauma-non accidental.

The Medical Examiner’s Office of District 17 performed an autopsy and determined that the cause of death is complications of craniocerebral blunt trauma, and the manner of death is homicide.

The Hallandale Beach Police Department has jurisdiction over this case. The criminal investigation led to the arrest of the father on charges of Aggravated Manslaughter of a Child and Aggravated Child Abuse on September 15, 2025.

Based on the information indicated above, the report was closed with verified findings of the death maltreatment, inadequate supervision, internal injuries, and threatened harm. The caregiver responsible is the father.

Other Children in the Family

The sibling was removed from the parent’s care on January 3, 2022. [redacted]

Current Agency Involvement at the Time of the Incident

At the time of the incident, the family was under court ordered supervision. The children had been reunified with the parents on December 22, 2021.

Summary of Prior Agency Involvement with Family

The family had two prior abuse reports in April 2020 and June 2021:

Upon the infant's birth in late June 2021, an abuse report was received with concerns for the mother's history of substance abuse. At delivery, the mother tested positive for buprenorphine (Subutex) and amphetamine (Adderall), [redacted] The mother also had a faint reading for fentanyl. The infant tested negative for all substances; however, he was experiencing tremors and had to be put on a morphine drip. There were also concerns that the mother had not received any prenatal care.

As a result of the mother testing positive for alcohol in the previous months, the mother violated her probation and was arrested. Due to ongoing concerns for substance abuse, the infant was removed from his parents and placed in the same licensed home as the sibling.

During the investigation, an additional report was received from the hotline alleging the sibling was injured during an overnight visit with her father. The father reported he was playing with the sibling and she headbutted him on the forehead. The father texted the foster parent to inform her of the sibling's injury and sent pictures of a scratch on the father's forehead.

The investigation was closed with no indicators of physical injury, substance misuse – prescription drugs, substance-exposed newborn, and verified findings of threatened harm on the infant by both parents.
