Medical Records Consultation completed by [redacted], BSN, RN, Safety Nurse Consultant:

I just wanted to provide you with the medical record review and summary for [redacted] According to the medical records reviewed, [redacted] was a three-month-old male when he was brought to the hospital for seizures and discovered to be severely malnourished. Mother found [redacted] in a pack-n-play where he normally slept, with abnormal breathing and increased salivation, so she picked him up and noted he was weak, floppy, hot, and his eyes rolled back. Mother reported [redacted] was on his back with nothing else in the pack-n-play with him. She called EMS and [redacted] continued to have seizures on the way to the hospital. He presented to the hospital with increased heartrate and rate of breathing as well as a fever. He was noted to have seizures, anemia, acidosis, and retinal hemorrhages found in the back of the right eye. [redacted] continued to have seizures, so he was treated with anticonvulsants and antibiotics. CT of the head noted a diffuse hypoxemic injury and he was admitted to the Pediatric intensive care unit. CARES Team was consulted due to severe malnutrition. Skeletal survey did not show any acute or healing fractures. Mother reported running out of formula two days prior and buying another brand of formula due to her not being able to afford his normal brand until EBT was available. Mother noted he has a large spit up once a day that takes the SC a minute to catch his breath after. Mother reports he has been on acid reflux medication three times a day that has helped some of his reflux symptoms. On day four of his hospital course, he began having low heartrate down to the 30s and low oxygen levels in his body that required CPR. A CT of head revealed worsening cerebral edema with tonsillar herniation (movement of brain tissue from one intracranial compartment to another) and CT of the abdomen revealed a grade 1 liver laceration. Prognosis was noted as grave. CARES Team concern for inflicted trauma was back to indeterminate after two Radiologists confirmed they believed the liver laceration to be artifact seen in highly heterogenous hepatic tissue. [redacted] passed away on the morning of 01/30/23 and was sent for an autopsy. CARES Team noted if further injuries are found, then that would increase their concern for inflicted injury.

Pediatric Partners of [redacted]
1/17/23-diagnosed with esophageal reflux two months prior. Diagnosed with failure to thrive. Current weight 6lbs 11oz. Seen after choking episode with grandparents. Ordered barium swallow to be done that day. Results were noted to be patulous (widening) esophagus with GE (Gastroesophageal) reflux.

Case Recording Summary

Case Id:	[redacted]	Case Name:	[redacted]
Case Status:	Close	Organization:	[redacted] Region

12/16/2022-Reflux, weight 6lbs 6oz, noted to have a rash and loose skin turgor, vaccines given, and postpartum depression screen done. Failure to thrive in newborn, follow up in 1 week.
10/21/22- weight 5lbs 4oz, noted to have eye drainage and subconjunctival hemorrhage of both eyes (confirmed they were present at birth), eye ointment prescribed. Neonatal obstruction of right nasolacrimal duct. Follow up in three weeks.

Birth history included [redacted] was born at 36 weeks and 6 days via vaginal delivery. Weighing 5lbs 6oz. Noted to breastfeed.

*Of note, I could not find the weight at death in the medical records in Tfacts. The autopsy should have it, but it would be interesting to know how the weight changed from the 1/17/23 visit. Dr. [redacted] noted an MRI should have been done to assist medical staff in clarification of the injury, but I did not see where one was noted as being done in the medical records provided.

This case was reviewed and briefed with Executive Director, [redacted]. In reviewing this case the final report from the CARES team states that after speaking with 2 pediatric attending radiologists to clarify the nature of the reported injuries, the concern for inflicted injury has changed to indeterminate. The report also states that there are no other injuries other than cerebral edema and limited RH to the R eye. In this context, a definitive dx of inflicted injury can not be made nor completely excluded. ACV has passed and the ME office will be completing an autopsy. In the event other injuries are found, this would increase the concern for inflicted injury.
